IN EVERY DETAIL.

Separates trash from the water before the water is filtered.
Water filters upward through sieve, preventing trash from being mixed with filtering material. Bird nests, leaves, trash etc., cannot possibly enter filtering material, as it is caught in the bottom of filter before water is filtered.
When screw cap is removed, it allows filter to dry out thoroughly. There is no chance for bugs or any kind of insects to accumulate as it does in other filters from dampness.

Encourage Good Things.

Don't waste the depot through darkness and mud, but telephone Rice Benge and have his handsome "bus" to call at your door. This is an enterprise that should certainly be encouraged.

Only for "Jockey"

The horse-swapping ordinance, published in this issue, is intended to break up "Jockey Row", the biggest nuisance the town has to contend with. It is only meant to break up the gangs. If two men want to trade or exhibit horses on the streets, in an orderly way, of course they will not be interfered with.

For Hog Killing.

Benge & Miller have constructed first-class slaughter pens and are prepared to kill and dress your hogs or cattle at reasonable figures. The pens are located at end of Totten avenue and are up-to-date in every particular. Have your meat killed where it can be properly handled and by expert hands. (9-21tf)

Chance for Colored Men.

Able-bodied colored men now have an opportunity to get into the army, see the world and at the same time make good wages. The war department has issued an order for the organization of two negro regiments to be known as the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth. They will be organized at Fort Thomas, Ky., and Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

A Great Convenience.

Rice Benge has arranged to run his new bus to meet all trains. He will call for you at your residence, if you give the order over the telephone, and get you to depot in ample time. This "bus" will be at the depot at night, and is one of the greatest accommodations the town has ever had. The RECORD would suggest that the people patronize this bus in good weather as well as in bad, for if it does not pay, of course it will not be continued. Ring up Mr. Benge and have him call for you. The fare is exceedingly reasonable.

The New Garrard.

This is the name adopted for the hotel now being built. People who have traveled and know what they are talking about, say this will be the finest hotel they ever saw in a country town. It is, undoubtedly, the biggest and most convenient in this section of the state. Messrs Ryan, the contractors, have had much trouble in getting material, and consequently, have been much delayed, but the building will be ready for occupancy within the next six weeks or two months. The company has not yet rented the building to anyone, though they have many applications. They will exercise much caution in making the contract with a renter and use all precaution to keep out any renter who is not a "first-class" hotel man, and one who will endeavor to starve out his patrons. Unless they do get a man who "will feed" they will soon find the building a white elephant, as the traveling public will hunt a place where they can get good victuals well prepared. Kentuckians, especially, will never patronize a place where "short rations" are served. Its all well enough to rent to "a northern man" but if the renter wants to build up the house he must give "Kentucky" feed to his guests. See that he sets a good table, brethren, and you will soon find "The New Garrard" a paying investment.

ENTIRELY WITH US.

Building of Railroad Through Garrard All now Depends on the County Doing her Part.

From the telegram sent here last Wednesday, one would have been lead to believe the Southern Railway's extension was to be made through Garrard for a certainty, whether the right-of-way was donated or not. We have found some to believe this, and want to assure them right now, most emphatically, that the road will not be built here unless the ground is given the company. The Southern has made this survey, and its officers say it is exactly what they want, both in grade and in curvature. Now they will not run another line, nor entertain any proposition whatever to go another route if Garrard comes up to her offer in the matter. Garrard can and will, unquestionably deliver the goods if the land owners are anything like reasonable in their demands. As the money has to be made up by private subscription, of course we can not raise the amount necessary to pay unreasonable and disgustingly outrageous prices for the little strip of land running through a farm. Our people are perfectly willing to pay actual damages, but when a man has the nerve to ask the price for his entire farm, it is stretching the blanket just a little too far. Any man, with ordinary business ability, can see that the building of this road here means many dollars in the pockets of every citizen of the county, and, if his land is now so valuable, that it will make it almost doubly so. If those along the line will only talk to parties over whom a road now runs, they will learn that a railroad is not the disadvantage that some croaks are trying to make them believe. As far as the committee has gone, they have met with favorable replies from the land owners, and some of them have seen so clearly the advantage it will be to them that they have donated the land. We cannot believe that we have any citizens so narrow-minded that when approached by the committee they will try to gouge their neighbors of Garrard by asking fabulous prices. We do not believe there is one in the county who is so fond of a penny, or so greedy and selfish as to try and stop this road and thus forever and eternally shut us out from the world of commerce and progress. Of course the courts can be called upon to condemn the land, but THE RECORD would dislike very much for it to go out to the world that Garrard has within her borders a man that is so short-sighted and penny-wise as to place an obstacle in the way of the county's march to prosperity and advancement. Boyle and Lincoln counties are standing with open arms for this road, and will not only give the right of way, but will come up with any other request the road may see proper to ask. Now, as we said at the outset, this road through Garrard only depends upon the right-of-way. The company has the survey they want, it is as near perfect as it is possible to make a road in this country, they want to strike the territory reached via this line, and no other line will be run if Garrard comes to the front as she should and is perfectly able to do. The survey will be completed to Jellico within the next ten or fifteen days and if this county stands ready to deliver the goods, work of construction will be at once begun. As the distance from here to Burgin is short, it will only be a short time until trains can be running to this county. Fellow citizens of Garrard, now is the opportunity of your life. If you let this pass, you may as well sit down and content yourself to always pay high freight rates, and be compelled to ship your products to one market. Why do this when the new road will open a line to all the North, East and South? We do not believe you will.

As the money has to be made up by private subscription, of course we can not raise the amount necessary to pay unreasonable and disgustingly outrageous prices for the little strip of land running through a farm. Our people are perfectly willing to pay actual damages, but when a man has the nerve to ask the price for his entire farm, it is stretching the blanket just a little too far. Any man, with ordinary business ability, can see that the building of this road here means many dollars in the pockets of every citizen of the county, and, if his land is now so valuable, that it will make it almost doubly so. If those along the line will only talk to parties over whom a road now runs, they will learn that a railroad is not the disadvantage that some croaks are trying to make them believe. As far as the committee has gone, they have met with favorable replies from the land owners, and some of them have seen so clearly the advantage it will be to them that they have donated the land. We cannot believe that we have any citizens so narrow-minded that when approached by the committee they will try to gouge their neighbors of Garrard by asking fabulous prices. We do not believe there is one in the county who is so fond of a penny, or so greedy and selfish as to try and stop this road and thus forever and eternally shut us out from the world of commerce and progress. Of course the courts can be called upon to condemn the land, but THE RECORD would dislike very much for it to go out to the world that Garrard has within her borders a man that is so short-sighted and penny-wise as to place an obstacle in the way of the county's march to prosperity and advancement. Boyle and Lincoln counties are standing with open arms for this road, and will not only give the right of way, but will come up with any other request the road may see proper to ask. Now, as we said at the outset, this road through Garrard only depends upon the right-of-way. The company has the survey they want, it is as near perfect as it is possible to make a road in this country, they want to strike the territory reached via this line, and no other line will be run if Garrard comes to the front as she should and is perfectly able to do. The survey will be completed to Jellico within the next ten or fifteen days and if this county stands ready to deliver the goods, work of construction will be at once begun. As the distance from here to Burgin is short, it will only be a short time until trains can be running to this county. Fellow citizens of Garrard, now is the opportunity of your life. If you let this pass, you may as well sit down and content yourself to always pay high freight rates, and be compelled to ship your products to one market. Why do this when the new road will open a line to all the North, East and South? We do not believe you will.

From the telegram sent here last Wednesday, one would have been lead to believe the Southern Railway's extension was to be made through Garrard for a certainty, whether the right-of-way was donated or not. We have found some to believe this, and want to assure them right now, most emphatically, that the road will not be built here unless the ground is given the company. The Southern has made this survey, and its officers say it is exactly what they want, both in grade and in curvature. Now they will not run another line, nor entertain any proposition whatever to go another route if Garrard comes up to her offer in the matter. Garrard can and will, unquestionably deliver the goods if the land owners are anything like reasonable in their demands. As the money has to be made up by private subscription, of course we can not raise the amount necessary to pay unreasonable and disgustingly outrageous prices for the little strip of land running through a farm. The following editorial, in Saturday's Courier-Journal, is of much interest to Garrard county people at present:

"The announcement that the Southern railway has determined to build an extension 115 miles long, from Burgin to Jellico, is only one of many indications of the industrial revival which, though coming late to Kentucky, is coming at last. This being an agricultural State, it has not shared in the remarkable prosperity of the manufacturing sections, which began as early as 1897, and the work of developing its resources has been almost suspended for years. However, both in Kentucky and in other parts of the South, we see the movement has now begun on a substantial basis.

Large purchases of timber and mineral lands are being reported every week, and with this news there comes, as might be expected, evidence of railroad building. The Southern railway is taking the initiative in the matter of constructing new lines, although the Louisville and Nashville and the Illinois Central are each spending very large sums in betterments on their old tracks in this state. Within a short time we shall doubtless hear of new roads projected, making substantial additions to mileage and opening up in new directions the vast mineral, timber and agricultural resources of the State. The mileage of Kentucky is far too small for a condition of high agricultural prosperity, not to mention the development of our Manufactures, for which so many natural advantages are offered. Millions of acres of fine farming lands are so remote from railway lines that they can not send to market, and instead of producing a surplus the farmers of that section are content with making a bare living. With new railroads to open up the markets these now inaccessible regions would be regenerated. The people of that part of the state through which the new Southern line is to pass are to be congratulated. This city will be a large beneficiary. Important as this undertaking is, however, it is trifling in comparison to the general development of which this is only an incident, but which is surely coming.

DEATH entered the home of ex-United States Senator Blackburn Sunday night and struck Mrs. Blackburn, wife of the Senator. Mrs. Blackburn had been a great sufferer from heart disease for many months and had received every attention that loving care could bestow, but the case was very serious from the start. On the day before their departure, about fifty of their friends, including J A Baker, of course he was there, came in with a bountiful supply of good things, and made a surprise dinner. The enjoyment was at its height and the "Squire," who never gets enough of his eating his peaches with as much zeal and delight as he ever did sixty years ago; and just as he was wondering why, like the widow's barrel of meal and cruise of oil, they "wasted not, neither did they fail," some one called his attention to the fact that his spoon had no bottom in it, and that he was eating more in his imagination than in reality. He saw he was "beat" and very unlike himself, confessed it as soon as he regained consciousness, but also expressed the hope that "Walk may not hear it."

The Jew.

The Jew is not a disturber of the peace of any country. Even his enemies will concede that. He is not a loafer, he is not a sot, he is not noisy, he is not a brawler or rioter, he is not quarrelsome, writes Mark Twain in Harper's Magazine. In the statistics of crime his presence is conspicuously rare—in all countries. With murder and other crimes of violence he has but little to do; he is a stranger to the hangman. In the police court's daily long roll of "assault" and "drunken disorders" his name seldom appears. That the Jewish home is a home in the truest sense is a fact which no one will dispute. The family is knitted together by the strongest affections; its members show each other every due respect, and reverence for the elders is an inviolate law of the house. The Jew is not a burden on the charities of the State nor of the city; these could cease from their functions without affecting him. When he is well, he works, when he is incapacitated, his own people take care of him. And not in a poor and stingy way, but with a fine and large benevolence. His race is entitled to be called the most benevolent of all the races of men. A Jewish beggar is not impossible, perhaps; such a thing may exist, but there are few men that can say they have seen that spectacle. The Jew has been staged in many uncomplimentary forms, but so far as I know no drama has done him the injustice to stage him as a beggar. Whenever a Jew has real need to beg, his people save him from the necessity of doing it. The charitable institutions of the Jews are supported by Jewish money, and amply. The Jews make no noise about it; it is done quietly; they do not nag and pester and harass us for contributions; they give us peace, and set us an example—an example which we have not found ourselves able to follow.

GREAT DISCOVERY.

A Veritable Gold Mine Found Near Dripping Springs by Lancaster Men.

Through the kindness of a friend, THE RECORD was enabled this week to get "onto" a scheme now being put into tangible shape, which will make Garrard county famous all over this country and bring thousands of dollars into the pockets of the promoters. The gentlemen at the head of the project wanted the matter kept quiet until all plans were completed, so don't tell anyone about it.

Last week, while spending a few days at Dripping Springs, Major Jim Burnside, Col. W. S. Ferguson, Thurmond Anderson and one or two others found a spring up in the hills to which it was evident no person had ever been, being hidden under a ledge of rocks and in a part of the mountain to which no one ever had occasion to go. The stream is about the size of a ree straw, but comes out very rapidly. As the crowd was a little thirsty, they drank freely of the water (without sugar in it.) In the course of an hour or so the water was so refreshing they began to feel, as Maj. Burnside said, "Like 16-year-olds." They wanted to hang around the parlors of the hotel, dance and talk soft to the girls as they were wont to do some fifty years ago. They made several other trips to the spring and felt so rejuvenated that the entire crowd came to town that night, cutting short the proposed three weeks' visit to Dripping. The next day the party met, according to agreement, and arranged to buy the spring. They engaged attorney J. Mort Rothwell by telephone and had him secure an option on the spring and two hundred acres of land adjoining. As most of the gentlemen are of limited means, they at once set about to secure assistance. After an explanation of what the water would do, etc., they found ready backers, but each man approached insisted on being taken in as a stockholder instead of lending them the money. A hotel to cover three acres will be erected, with all modern improvements, such as electric lights, fans, good soft places to loaf and LIZARD, etc. Board will be furnished at $5 per day, but no guest will be allowed to remain on the premises more than two days.

Maj. Burnside will be kept there to entertain the guests, have charge of the dance hall and keep the other eye on the spring to see that the water is not wasted, or the spring carried away. The chief clerkship will be offered to Captain Tom Elkin, and the company has no doubt but that he will accept. On the suggestion of Capt. W. C. McFarland, the company decided to erect a bottling establishment, and will sell the wonderful discovery at fifty cents per half pint. This will furnish employment to many sober, steady hands. Will Ferguson and Ed Hopper, of Covington, will travel for the enterprise and set forth the wonderful power of the water. Capt. Mike Salter and Thurmond Anderson will meet all trains at Crab Orchard until the Southern Railway completes its line to the spring. The hotel will not be completed until next spring, but those learning of the discovery have already spoken for rooms. Dr. Leslie McMurtry, of Danville, will assist in the office. There are many other points about the project which we have not space to bring out, but a few minutes talk with any of the gentlemen will convince one that they have a gold mine in the scheme. Will Ferguson will transport from Ireland some of the soil that St. Patrick blessed to keep the snakes out of their boots.

Civil Engineers and Surveyors, LANCASTER, KY

Real Estate Bought and Sold.
I am in a position to advertise property and to get fair prices for it. Please consult me if you have any to dispose of, or if you desire to purchase. The Graded School and an era of general prosperity, with a prospect for water-works and another railroad, have caused a number to seek homes in our city, and the value of property has been enhanced. Although seventeen residences have gone up this year, there is not a vacant house in the city, and even building lots will soon be in demand. Until it is settled that the new railroad will be built, I offer the following property at the very low prices:
No. 1. A handsome residence, of 10 rooms, with two cisterns and all necessary out-buildings, beautifully located on Danville avenue. There are fifteen acres of land attached, with a front of 690 feet, thus furnishing building lots, which can be sold at good prices. The property is owned by Mrs. H. C. Kauffman and can be bought at the low price of $5,000.
No. 2. A valuable brick residence, of eight rooms, on Lexington avenue, known as the Dr. O. P. Hill property. This is one of the best houses in the city and is well located, in a quiet neighborhood. There is an abundance of fruit and water, ornamental and shade trees, a fertile garden and everything necessary to make it highly attractive and desirable. There are four acres of land attached, furnishing three good building lots. For the present this property can be bought at the very low price of $4,500.
I will show the above property to any one desiring to purchase. I will handle farms on reasonable terms. No sale no pay.

Worrying Harry.
Harry Giovannoli has for some time been tearing his hair and lying wake nights worrying over whether the famous fishing stream between here and Little Britain should be spelled "Dicks" or "Dix" river. He contends, however, it should be "Dicks" and is willing to swear by it. We had never seen it other than "Dix" before the clever Advocate man took up the case. As what Harry says always goes, we guess he is, as usual, right.

HAS NATURE WARNED YOU?

Nature herself, clad in the early garb of spring, blossoms forth in flowers causing the despondent chord to vibrate to this, the most delightful of all springtimes and how do you feel? Have you that tired shaky feeling, the forerunner of Chills, Malaria and Typhoid Fever? If so, you must not pass this warning as it is an indication of sickness; avoid this; consult us at our advice costs you nothing. Call on your druggist and procure a bottle of Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder. Take one dose a day at bed time for six days; then follow by procuring a bottle of "Yucatan Chill Tonic," following the directions. You will feel like the flowers look in the spring. Prepare yourself for the malarial or hot season when the atmosphere is full of germs. If necessary and when your system warns you, repeat the above. These Remedies in stock and sold by

Frog in Hoc.

Frog Eye, the champion cane walker, visited the Danville colored fair last week and, after capturing many dusky hearts, proceeded to fill up a local option whiskey and take the town. Tom Helm, who, by the way, is one of the best officers in the state, gathered Frog under his wing and took the "graceful" but unruly coon into police court where he was fined $15. Not having the coin, Frog was placed astride a rock pile where he will have ample time to rest his legs for his next engagement.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimply blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at R. E. McRoberts' Drug Store. 1m Peking now has an electric railroad, running from the south gate of the city to the steam railroad station, and it is hoped that permission to enter the city itself may be obtained soon. The road is built by a German firm.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

A prominent Virginia Editor Had Almost given up, but was Brought Back to perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

READ HIS EDITORIAL.

From the Times, Hillsdale, Va.
I suffered with Diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man to-day and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. Mr. Thomas N. Conn and pretty daughter, Miss Maude, of Shelby county, who have been visiting relatives here, returned to their home Tuesday.

In Lexington Sunday, we learned that Casey M. Owsley is much improved in health, though far from being well. He will take a trip through the South next month, which, the physicians say, will help him greatly.

The Middlesboro News says Col. D. G. Colson, who has been confined for a couple weeks with paralysis, has about recovered, and was able to be up Thursday. He was removed from his office to his country home.

Judge Burnside entertained Capt. McFarland at supper Saturday evening. The following enjoyed the spread: Col. Jno. W. Miller, A. T. Anderson, Maj. Jas. Crafty Burnside, Col. W. S. Ferguson, Thos. Wherritt and Louis Landram.

Col. L. F. Hubble has been employed by the Southern to secure the right-of-way through the mountain counties. He was here this week and had The Record office print a great quantity of blank forms for the purpose. He is sanguine of Garrard's success in securing the road.

At Danville the other day, we met Rev. F. M. Hill, former pastor of the Methodist church here. He said the Lancaster people had reason to congratulate themselves upon securing the services of Rev. Robinson as pastor. He knew him to be a man worthy in every way of the respect of the people and was a preacher of extraordinary ability.

We met Harry Giovannoli, local editor of the Advocate, in Danville, Friday, and the clever quill driver wore a smile as broad as a barn door. Rushing up, nearly out of breath, he said "It's a boy and looks just like me." We tried to extend congratulations but Harry continued to hop about like a hen on a hot griddle and didn't stop to listen. If little Harry grows to be as clever a fellow as his daddy, Mrs. Giovannoli should be very proud of him.

Capt. W. C. McFarland, after spending a few days with Lancaster relatives, returned to New York this week. His visit was greatly enjoyed by many Lancaster friends, who were delighted to know that he is rapidly recovering from the wounds received in the Santiago fight and the general breaking down of his health while in Cuba. He will sail from New York for Paris next week and return at once, only making the trip for the benefits to be derived from the sea voyage. Mrs. McFarland and son, Landram, will spend the winter in New York City.

How's This For Him?
A gentleman tells THE RECORD he heard a crowd "blowing off" against water works, pavements, the railroad, THE RECORD's feeble attempt to boom things, etc. etc. He said he took a survey, and out of the five, one drew a pension, one's wife took in sewing, another's wife took in washing and the better halves of the remaining two made the living for the would-be wise "men". This is about the way it goes. If a man has to work in the town, he is, of course trying to bring more business here, but if he is a grub pensioner, of course he "erposes" things just to get his name before the people.

The exports of dried apples for the last fiscal year were 19,303,749 pounds, valued at $1,244,733; while of ripe apples there were exported 380,222 barrels; valued at $1,210,450.

The Advocate says the W. W. Wallace sale, conducted by Capt. English, was a good one. Fifteen grade Jersey cows sold at $20 to $50; a 17-year-old mare, $37.50. A mare bought at the Eugene McGowan sale for $65, brought $82.25. Household goods sold well.

At Danville court Capt. English reported to the Advocate about 350 cattle in town today, but trade a little dull on account of the drought. Horace Bowman withdrew thirty 1,000 lb feeders at $41.35. One lot of common short yearlings were bought by Thos. Fox at $16; twenty-one common yearlings at $15.50 and twenty good steer calves at $18.50.

This is evidently a good year for the county fairs, as report from various places indicate immense crowds and plenty of interest, which means a success financially. It is also a fact that all these fairs where such big crowds have been drawn were old fashioned fairs without any racing program, which bears out the opinion of many that the only way to revive interest in the country fairs is to abandon the trotting horse feature and offer good, liberal premiums for exhibition horses and other stock.

Best Soda Water in town.

Sentiment grows in favor of water works. Only occasionally you hear a fellow "erposed" to it.

Paris Street Fair.

Depot Agent Patterson has been instructed to sell tickets to Paris, Ky., on Sept. 23 to 25th inclusive at one fare for the round trip. This fair will be a big thing, and, as the rate is so cheap, you can afford to go.

No cattle on the streets next Monday.

The Drouth.

Only a few cisterns in town have any water left in them, and springs have shut up shop completely. It is by the most rigid economy in use that the few cisterns have any water left. The contractors at the various buildings, now in course of construction, have to haul water from Dix river, and other distant points. Strange to say, we only have a few cases of fever in town, notwithstanding this unprecedented scarcity of water. How on this earth a man can say he is "erposed" to water works, when he sees the serious conditions of things now, is hard to conceive.

City Ordinance.

The City Council of the City of Lancaster do ordain as follows: Excepting Totten Avenue, it shall be unlawful to congregate on the Public Square, any street or alley or other public place in city, and exhibit for the purpose of sale or swap any horse, mule, jack or jennet. Each person so offending shall be fined not less than one dollar nor more than fifteen dollars.

This ordinance shall go into effect on passage and publication according to law in THE CENTRAL RECORD, a weekly newspaper published in Lancaster, Kentucky.

COUSIN GEORGE'S DECISION.

He Thought His New Found Relative Were a Very Shoddy Lot.

"Now, my dear, I want you to be very kind to your cousin George when he comes," said the girl's mother, according to the Detroit Free Press.

"Oh, mamma! I simply can't tote him all over town, and I don't think you ought to expect me to."

"But you must entertain him nicely while he's here. He probably will not stay long."

"How do you know? We've never seen him—how do you know anything about him. Dear me! I think it's horrible! I don't see what he's coming for. Just suppose he's dreadfully awkward and doesn't know how to act! Why, it would be too embarrassing for anything! And the girls have been studying genealogy at the library for the last two weeks, and they're awfully critical about one's relations."

The next afternoon a coupe drove to the door and a young man alighted. It was George. He was an athletic young fellow, who, though he hailed from a small western town, had been educated abroad, and was as fine a specimen of manhood as could be found. Marguerite was delighted. The relief was great. She gushed profusely over her new-found cousin and offered him all sorts of social inducements to spend a week. But he left the next afternoon.

"What was the matter—why didn't you stay longer with your Uncle Henry's family?" said his father, after he had reached home. "Didn't you like them?"

"No. They were the shoddiest lot of people I ever ran across."

Death of John A. Haldeman.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 19.—John A. Haldeman, business manager of the Times, a son of W. N. Haldeman, president of the Courier Journal Company, died at his home in this city after a lingering illness.

Crime in England.

Sir James Vaughan, for 35 years a police magistrate of London, notes a wonderful decrease in crimes of brutality and violence, and an increase, less marked, in the crimes which require brains and ingenuity. General education doubtless favors morality and refinement; but there is in the cities a limited crop of children with inherited or acquired criminal tendencies; and when these are gathered into school, unless great pains are taken to counteract the influences of the street and of their wretched homes, the mere quickening of the intellect only gives new power for mischief.

High Opinion of the Hub.

Col. Ingersoll used to tell a story of a Boston man who asked his advice as to what to read. The colonel recommended Shakespeare. After a year or two the Boston man came back and thanked Col. Ingersoll for his advice. "The plays are first-rate," he said. "I tell you, Col. Ingersoll, there are not ten men in Boston who can write like that man Shakespeare."

The Partisan Orator.

I don't know when he utters his arguments prolix. Just which are patriotism and which are politics.

A Midnight Dialogue.

Father (from head of stairs)—Bessie, if that young man doesn't go pretty soon he will miss the last car.

Bessie (in parlor)—That's all right, papa. He likes to walk.—N. Y. Journal.

She Would Be a Living Witness.

She (threatening breach of promise suit)—Do you intend to deny, sir, that you proposed to me?

He—No. I intend to plead insanity.—Harlem Life.

Her Simple Request.

"I am going to ask a great favor of you," she said, hesitatingly.

"It is already granted," he answered, devotedly.

"A very great favor," she repeated, as if doubtful of the propriety of stating it. "You're sure you won't think it presumptuous or forward in me?"

"Never," he answered. "I glory in this evidence of your trust and confidence. Only tell me what I can do for you."

"Well," she replied with evident reluctance, "would you mind getting off that rustic bench? Papa painted it this afternoon, and he will be awfully provoked if he has to do it over again."—Chicago Post.

Two Professionals.

Scene: Railway carriage on the Midland railway. Enter a colonel with game bag and case of guns. Colonel (to passengers, enthusiastically)—Beautiful sport; 60 birds in two hours, and only missed two shots!

A quiet gentleman sitting in the corner put down his paper, rushed across the compartment and grasped him warmly by the hand: "Allow me to congratulate you, sir! I am a professional myself."

"Professional sportsman?"

"No; professional liar."—Tit-Bits.

Heroic Measures.

"Yes, sir," said the scholarly man, "I'm going to do it. I'm going to make Shakespeare popular—the reigning topic of the day."

"How?"

"I'm going to name a new game after him; a game in which the players wear the most astonishing costumes you ever saw."—Washington Star.

Longing Unsupplied.

"I'm sighing for some one to love me," hummed the heiress.

"But, my dear," interrupted her dearest friend, "you are even now engaged to be married."

"Yes," she admitted, "but only to an impecunious foreign nobleman."—Chicago Post.

The Worst Part of It.

De Jones—I hear your firm discharged you.

Smythe—Yes; but I wouldn't mind that so much if they hadn't added insult to injury.

De Jones—How so?

Smythe—They advertised for a boy to fill my place.—Chicago Daily News.

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS.

MORE TROUBLE THREATENED.

The Philpots Claim They Can Rally 450 Men and Are Prepared for Any Emergency.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Sept. 19.—Sol. and Jim Griffin arrived here Sunday morning from London, en route to Manchester, in charge of the sheriff of Laurel county. He was here joined by Capt. Hawn and 20 of his men to guard the Griffins to their destination. Capt. Hawn selected 20 of his best and most reliable men, and if attacked they will certainly give a good account of themselves. The Griffins are indicted for the killing of Wash Thacker and are now going to stand their examining trial. They have been friends to the Whites in the late trouble in Clay county. It is the almost universal opinion here that the Griffins will not be held to answer for the killing of Thacker. It is not known what action the Philpots will take in the matter. Rev. James Philpot, who lives here, claims that the killing of Thacker will have a tendency to stop the trouble between the Whites and Philpots. One of the Philpots told our correspondent that the Philpots could rally 450 men, all voters, in less than 24 hours' notice. He also stated that they had recently purchased 45 Colt's revolvers, 45-caliber, which were warranted to shoot on a level 200 yards. Also seven Winchester which would shoot 1,100 yards and a number of Winchester shotguns. He said: "We don't want trouble, but we are prepared for it."

They captured James Phillips at the distillery, they also found a large quantity of meal. Phillips was taken to Pineville Thursday afternoon. He says that he will refuse to testify in his own behalf, because, in so doing, he might have to implicate other parties. Phillips says: "I will die before I will give anybody away." This is the eighth distillery Anderson has cut up near the same place in the last six months.

BANK STOCK.

The Holders Must Pay the Tax the Same as Other Personal Property, Says State Auditor Stone.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 17.—Under a recent decision of the courts it has been held that national banks could not be taxed as banks, but it is held that stock in the banks in the hands of private persons may be taxed as other personal property is taxed. It is known now that it is the purpose of Auditor Stone to insist on this tax on stock in national banks, and steps will shortly be taken to enforce the collection by due process of law. In other states the banks have thought it best to pay for the stockholders as a matter of accommodation to the state and to the stockholders. No arrangement of the kind has been made in Kentucky, but Auditor Stone has said that if the banks would not pay the taxes he would see that the individual stockholders did.

RAW AS BEEF FROM ECZEMA!

No Torture Equal to the Itching and Burning of This Fearful Disease.

Eczema—which is more than skin-deep, and can not be reached by local applications of ointments, salves, etc., applied to the surface. The disease itself, the real cause of the trouble, is in the blood, although all suffering is produced through the skin; the only way to reach the disease, therefore, is through the blood.

Mr. Phil T. Jones, of Mixersville, Ind., writes: "I had Eczema thirty years, and after a great deal of treatment my leg was so raw and sore that it gave me constant pain. It finally broke into a running sore, and began to spread and grow worse. For the past five or six years I have suffered untold agony and had given up all hope of ever being free from the disease, as I have been treated by some of the best physicians and have taken many blood medicines, all in vain. With little faith left I began to take S. S. S., and it apparently made the Eczema worse, but I knew that this was the way the remedy got rid of the poison. Continuing S. S. S., the sore healed up entirely, the skin became clear and smooth, and I was cured perfectly."

Eczema is an obstinate disease and can not be cured by a remedy which is only a tonic. Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD—is superior to other blood remedies because it cures diseases which they can not reach. It goes to the bottom—to the cause of the disease—and will cure the worst case of Eczema, no matter what other treatment has failed. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed to be free from potash, mercury or any other mineral, and never fails to cure Eczema, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Tetters, Rheumatism, Open Sores, Ulcers, Boils, etc. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place. Books on these diseases will be mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.
